EMPLOYERS THAT HIRE COLLEGE STUDENTS FOR SUMMER JOBS

SUMMER CAMPS: which include academics, arts and crafts, sports, backpacking, canoeing or horseback riding. Summer camps are good summer jobs for students interested in careers in teaching, social services or hospitality jobs.

RESORTS AND HOTELS: hire students to work as front desk clerks, reservations, housekeepers, grounds maintenance, pool duties, tennis, golf, child care, host and hostess, etc.

NATIONAL PARKS: provide a variety of opportunities for students. The best opportunities are with parks that offer services in lodging, cafeteria services, stores, service stations and gift shops.

AMUSEMENT AND THEME PARKS: generally hire college students to assist with rides and attractions.

SUMMER THEATERS: hire college students during the summer months to assist in the production of plays, operas, musicals, drama, etc.

CHILD CARE/NANNY: Families hire college students to help with child care and light housekeeping duties during the summer months.

TEMPORARY AGENCIES: Many agencies hire students during the summer months to work in all phases of office work.

WORKING FOR YOURSELF: Students that are entrepreneurial-minded may want to start their own business. Students wanting to go into business for themselves must be resourceful and willing to spend a lot of time and effort in the venture in order to get the business off the ground.

VOLUNTEERING: If all fails in your summer job search, you may be able to gain valuable work experience by volunteering for an agency or a company that will complement your college training.

WHAT CAN A SUMMER JOB OFFER?
♦ Balance your academic training with practical experience
♦ Travel and spend two-to-three months in a different part of the country or in a foreign country
♦ Meet new and exciting people

Just have fun!!

APPLICATION TIPS
Apply as early as possible
An employer may require a resume, cover letter, references, transcripts, medical forms, certifications, etc.
Send in required documents at the same time.
SURF THE NET: The internet is a great resource that can assist you in finding summer employment.
The Career Services Center in BE 1102E can assist you with finding summer employment.