

University of Washington Libraries Visit

1. Identify at least one book related to your topic or aspects of your topic:

Author:	Merlinda Ingco, ed.
Title:	Agriculture, trade and the WTO : creating a trading environment for development
Call number and library location information (be sure to note which library it is in):	WBG D627 Ag83 - AVAILABLE - Suzzallo
At UW, find the book and consider whether to add it to your project. Make your notes here:	Explores the interests of developing countries in the WTO trade negotiations. This source focuses on key issues in agricultural trade liberalization from the perspective of the developing countries, rather than from the perspective of the global policy makers. Some of the issues covered include: market access, competition, food security, intellectual property rights and agricultural trade. Includes details and supporting data and bibliography not available in any of the other sources we have found. Washington, D.C. : World Bank, c2003

2. Identify at least one periodical database relevant to your topic to explore:

You can use some of your time at the UW libraries to search this database for at least one relevant article.

NOTE: Do not use ProQuest for this search. Try a database you have not yet used.

Name of database:	ABI Inform
Search strategy used (combination of searchable terms):	Free trade + agriculture + developing nations

Best article author:	Murray, D.L. and L.T. Raynolds.
Title:	"Alternative Trade in Bananas: Obstacles and Opportunities for Progressive Social Change in the Global Economy."
Periodical title, volume, issue, date and page information:	2000. Agriculture and Human Values 17(1):65-74.
Is the article available online or only in print?	Online only